INTRODUCTION.¹

Statement I.

1. Number of institutions.—In the session 1917-18 there were 51 institutions² affiliated or belonging to the Calcutta University counting the Post-Graduate Classes in Arts and the Post-Graduate Classes in Science, as separate institutions. Of these 2 are in Burma, 3 are in Assam and one is in Cooch Behar and the remaining 45 are in the Bengal Presidency, 23 of these being in Calcutta and 22 in the mufassal. Of the 45 institutions in the Bengal Presidency, 13 are maintained by Government, 15 are aided institutions, 3 are maintained by the University, 1 is maintained by a municipal board and the rest (13) are private colleges. The Cooch Behar College is maintained by the Cooch Behar Darbar.

In Bengal there are 8 missionary colleges of which 6 are in Calcutta.

The number of the women's colleges is 3, all in Calcutta.

There are 12 professional colleges: 2 medical, 1 engineering, 5 training colleges for teachers and 3 law colleges in Bengal. There is 1 law college in Assam; there is no professional college in Burma.

2. Number of students in Calcutta University.—The total number of students in the Calcutta University including all grades in 1917-18 was 27,290.³ The number was distributed as follows:—engineering 98; medicine, 1,205; training college students, 117; law, 2,824; post-graduate students in arts, 1,479; post-graduate students in science, 199; undergraduate students in arts and science in Calcutta colleges 11,158 (of whom 4,095 were in the B. A. and B. Sc. classes); including undergraduate students in arts and science in the mufassal colleges Cooch Behar, 9,488, of whom 1,737 were in the B. A. and B. Sc. classes; undergraduate students in Assam, 816; undergraduate students in Burma 768.

3. Number of students in Calcutta.—In Calcutta there were altogether 15,853 students of whom 98 belonged to the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, 1,205 to the two medical colleges, 54 to the training colleges and the remaining 14,496 students to arts, science and law. The number of the graduate students⁴ was 3,338 and the number of undergraduate students was 11,158.¹ The number of female students in Calcutta reading in women's colleges was 189. The number of intermediate students in Calcutta was 7,063.

4. (a) Calculation of the number of the students to be provided for in the reconstituted Teaching University of Calcutta.—In calculating this number we have made no allowance for the rate of increase; our calculations are based on the figures of 1917-18. Of the 11,158 undergraduate students in arts and science in the Calcutta colleges 7,063 were in the intermediate and 4,095 in the B. A. and B. Sc. classes. We have recommended that the B. A. and B. Sc. courses should ultimately be extended from 2 to 3 years which will increase the number of students by 50 per cent.; the number of undergraduate students in the reconstituted University of Calcutta will therefore be 6,142. If we add the post-graduate students in arts and science, and the students in law, medicine, engineering and teaching, we obtain a total of 10,837 students.

(b) Number of students in the mufassal colleges after the separation of the intermediate colleges.—The number of students in the mufassal colleges, excluding Dacca, will be 2,605. This has been arrived at by increasing the number of students in the B. A. and B. Sc. classes by 50 per cent. on account of the extension of the courses from 2 to 3 years.

Statement II.

5. Rejected or 'failed' candidates.—We have discussed in Chapters XVII, paragraphs 101-102, and XL, paragraph 34, the question whether the rejected candidates should be compelled to go through the whole course again. In this connexion it is interesting to note that 1,400 students rejoined the fourth year class after failing in the B. A. examination and 2,545 students rejoined the second year class after their failure in the intermediate examination. The largest numbers of rejected candidates are in Vidyasagar College, 669; R. College, 435; Bangabasi College, 394; and City College, 382. If candidates rejected

² This note is based on the figures supplied for the year 1917-18 and consequently the two newly founded colleges Khulna are not counted. On the other hand the London Missionary Society's Institution which was closed in July 1915 The University College of Science and the Palit Laboratories at Ballygunj are not included in the total number of included as separate institutions in the list given in Volume I.

³ 48 per cent. of the post-graduate arts and science students also study law and this number is deducted from the students.

B. A. examination were entirely exempted from attendance, the number of the undergraduate students in Calcutta would be diminished by 925.

6. Number of students to be provided for in the first year class of the proposed Intermediate Colleges.—The number of the students who joined the first year course of the Bengal colleges in 1917-18 was 6,634, excluding Medicine and Engineering. The number of students who passed the matriculation examination from the high schools of Bengal in 1916-17 was 8,319. In the year 1917-18, 79·4 per cent. of the students who passed the matriculation examination continued their studies in the intermediate classes. We may safely conclude that a little over 75 per cent. of the students who pass the matriculation or 'high school' examination will join the first year course of an intermediate college.¹ (Statements I and II.)

Statement III.

7. Distribution of students according to locality.—Statement III which summarises the distribution of students according to their locality, indicates the migratory nature of the Bengal students. A little less than half the number of the students in nearly every college come from other districts. The largest number of students come from Calcutta and its suburbs which contribute a total of 3,453. Dacca district contributes 2,968 students and Mymensingh district contributes 1,481 closely followed by Faridpur district with 1,472. In our scheme for the distribution of intermediate colleges,² we have considered the number of students who passed the matriculation examination of 1918 from the various districts as well as the number of the students drawn from each locality as indicated in Statement III.

Statement IV.

8. Muslim students.—The total number of Muslim students in all the colleges of the Calcutta University was 2,683, i.e., 9·5 per cent. of the total. The number in the professional and arts colleges is as follows:—

Courses.	Number of Muslim students.	Ratio of the Muslim students to the total number expressed as a percentage.
Engineering	4	4·0
Medicine	47	3·9
Law	198	7·0
Teaching	23	10·7
Post-graduate and Undergraduate 'arts' colleges	2,411	9·9
TOTAL	2,683	9·5

The percentage of the Muslim population is 52·7.

Statement V.

9. Residence of students.—The figures supplied to us by the principals of the colleges show that 6,585 students reside with their parents, 11,988 with approved guardians, 5,000 in hostels, 403 in non-collegiate hostels, 2,556 in attached messes³ and 1,750 in unattached messes.⁴ Not a single student is entered in the column of 'unapproved guardians' and only one is shown as residing in unrecognised messes. These figures do not appear to be altogether correct; it seems clear that the terms have been interpreted in different ways by different colleges. (See Report, Chapters XIX and XXXIX.)

¹ A calculation of this figure based on the number of candidates in five successive years yielded a result of a little over 75 per cent. of the students who passed the matriculation examination. For the calculation of the number of students for Intermediate Colleges we have assumed that 75 per cent. of the successful candidates will join the Intermediate.—vide Appendix XXV of Volume VI.

³ Attached and non-collegiate hostels, see Chapter XIX on Student Life.

10. Hostel accommodation in Calcutta.—In the Calcutta colleges there were in 1917-18 altogether 15,799 students (undergraduate and post-graduate in arts and science, law, engineering and medicine). The total available hostel accommodation ¹ was as follows :—

College or Hostel.	Students.
Scottish Churches College	224
St. Xavier's College	60
St. Paul's Cathedral Mission College	165
Vidyasagar College (late Metropolitan Institution)	194
Ripon College	139
Bangabasi College	194
City College	194
Hardinge Law Hostel for Hindu students	174
Elliot Hostel	45
Baker Hostel	196
Taylor Hostel	73
Carmichael Hostel	196
Eden Hostel	254
Medical College Hostel	20
Y. M. C. A. Hostel	79
Oxford Mission Hostel	50
TOTAL	2,257

In the collegiate and non-collegiate hostels there is a total hostel accommodation for 2,257 students in Calcutta.

11. Hostel accommodation which should be provided in the reconstituted University of Calcutta.—In the reconstituted University there will be according to our figures about 6,142 undergraduates in arts and science. It is difficult to estimate the number of graduate students; but taking the present figure the number is 3,338 (excluding those taking up teaching courses). Hostel accommodation is provided for engineering students in the Civil Engineering College, but accommodation is not provided for medical students. The total number of students in arts, science, law and medicine will be 10,685. The number of students who reside with their parents and bonâ fide guardians is about 40 per cent. of this total. The number of students for whom hostel accommodation will be required in Calcutta will therefore be 60 per cent. of the total number or 6,411² for 2,257 of whom hostel accommodation is available at present. Additional hostel accommodation will therefore be required for 4,154² students.

It has already been stated in Chapter XIX the living in unattached messes is unsatisfactory, but that the attached messes, which are really miniature hostels, should be continued and gradually replaced by hostels. The number of the students now residing in the attached messes of Calcutta is 2,556. Hostel accommodation will therefore be immediately required in Calcutta for (4,154—2,556) or 1,598 students.²

12. Residence of students outside Calcutta and Dacca.—The number of the B. A. and B. Sc. students in the mufassal colleges of Bengal excluding Dacca and Cooch Behar is

¹ These figures also include newly built hostels which were not occupied in 1917-18.
² This figure is calculated on the assumption that rejected candidates will continue to read in colleges. If B. A. candidates who fail in the examination are not compelled to attend the colleges again, these numbers will be reduced by 555. This number is obtained by taking 60 per cent. of the failed candidates (925) which is the proportion of the candidates who reside in hostels.

1,737. This number will be increased by 50 per cent. when the B. A. and B. Sc. courses are extended from 2 to 3 years. Assuming that 40 per cent. of the students would reside with their parents and bonâ fide guardians, we should require hostel accommodation for 1,563 students in the mufassal colleges.

Increased hostel accommodation will be required in the 'university colleges' and the accommodation now available in some of the mufassal colleges will be used by the students of the intermediate colleges.

13. The hostel accommodation required in the mufassal must be estimated separately for each town in which the college is situated.

Note.—The periods of work shown for the staff of the Belgachia Medical College require some explanation. The number shown under the sub-heading "lectures" refers in each case to the total number for the academic year. Of the 135 lectures delivered by Mr. Profulla Chandra Roy, 100 deal with inorganic and the rest with organic chemistry. It will be observed that under two other sub-headings "Tutorial" and "practical" two sets of figures are given one being bracketed and the other set without any brackets, the latter refer to the hours of work during the period July-December of 1917 and the former to the period January-April 1918. Dr. A. K. Roy Chowdhury takes weekly 24 hours of practical work during the dissection season from November to January, the corresponding figure for the rest of the year being 12.

Burdwan Raj College— contd.	Burdwan
Carmichael College . . .	Rangpur . . .	No very definite conditions of service have been laid down. Beyond what is implied in the names of various offices and employments, and the statement of remuneration offered, the resolutions and letters of appointment have said little or nothing by way of making precise rules; a general understanding has been thought sufficient.	Nothing laid down in the terms of appointment except in the case of the Principal, who accepted the position for three years, and was requested to extend it to four years. This latter point has been left to stand over.
Central College . . .	Calcutta . . .	Successful performance of duties entrusted in each case is attended with increments granted to monthly salaries from time to time.	Ordinarily, one month's previous notice is required to be given for a severance of connexion in respect of the instructive and administrative staffs of the Institution. There has been no occasion, however, for taking an initiative in this connexion on the part of the management of the Institution and the duration of service in most cases, has been of many years' standing.

...	Details of the rules for the management of the Provident Fund are as follows:— Extract from the Proceedings of the Governing Body of the Edward College, Pabna, dated the 10th April, 1915. Resolved that the following rules be adopted for the management of the College Provident Fund:— PABNA EDWARD COLLEGE PROVIDENT FUND RULES. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> In the following rules : <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 'Salary' means monthly salary or allowance drawn during leave, but does not include travelling or any other allowance. 'Servant' includes every employee holding a substantive appointment under the Pabna Edward College Governing Body, whose salary exceeds Rs. 15, provided that an officer officiating in an office which is vacant, or the permanent incumbent of which does not draw any part of the pay, may, if he is confirmed without interruption in his service, be allowed to join the Provident Fund with retrospective effect from the date of his joining the officiating service. The monthly subscriptions to the fund shall not in such a case be less than 10 per cent. on the salary of the officer till all arrear subscriptions are paid up. 'Depositor' means a servant on whose behalf a deposit is made under these rules. 'Interest' means the interest which is paid on a deposit at a Government Savings Bank under the rules in force for such Institutions. 'Due notice of resignation of appointment' means in all cases one month's notice. Every servant shall be required to subscribe at the rate of 6½ per cent, or one anna in the rupee, on his salary, to a Provident Fund, of which an account will be opened at the Post Office Savings Bank. This deduction shall be made by the Governing Body upon every salary bill presented and the net salary only shall be paid to the servant. In making this deduction fractions of a rupee of salary should be omitted. It shall be competent to the College Governing Body to contribute to the deposit account of each servant an amount not exceeding half the deduction made from his salary* under the preceding rule, provided that if the total of the contributions shown in the bill, on which a remittance is made to the Savings Bank, contains a fraction of an anna, it shall be increased to the next highest anna by an addition to the bill of the difference between this fraction and unity. These provisional increases in the contribution will be shown in the abstract of balances until adjusted at the close of the year (See rules 10 and 11 below), but they will not appear in the depositor's ledger accounts. The deductions under Rule 2 and the contribution under Rule 3 shall be paid to the Postmaster for credit to the account of the Provident Fund in the Savings Bank. The payment of the deduction shall be debited in the accounts to the same head as the salary, and the contributions shall be charged to the Establishment sub-head 'Provident Fund Contributions.' The remittances to the Savings Bank should, whenever possible, be made between the 1st and 4th of each month, in order that the interest may accrue for the month of deposit. It has been decided by the Postal authorities that deposits on account of Provident Fund of Local Fund employees are held to be made under Rule 44 (c) of the Savings Bank Rules and that the usual limitations of the total amount at credit of each account laid down in Rule 42(f) do not apply to them. When, however, the investment of any portion of the amount out of the balance at credit of the account is found desirable, the amount will, on application by the Governing Body, be withdrawn, and the investment made by the Postal authorities. The interest will be drawn by the Post Office and credited in the Savings Bank accounts. The actual cost of purchase of such securities will be added to the balance in the Savings Bank to obtain the total balance of the Provident Fund Ledger, any excess interest received over that shown in the ledger owing to the rate obtained on the investment being slightly higher than the Savings Bank rate should be drawn and credited as a "Miscellaneous Receipt" in the college accounts. No part of the contribution, excepting his own, will be available to the depositor before at least 3 (three) years' contributions have been made. The deposits and contributions, with interest thereon, at the credit of any servant, may be withdrawn:— <ol style="list-style-type: none"> On the decease of the depositor, when the amount shall be paid to his legal heirs; or On his ceasing to be a servant of the Pabna Edward College, by retirement, reduction of establishment or admission in the Government service, when the amount shall be credited to the servant himself. If a servant is dismissed, removed, or called upon to resign on account of misconduct or incapacity, or if he resigns without due notice, the Pabna Edward College Governing Body may withhold all or any part of the contribution allotted to him, with the interest accrued thereon and pay to the servant only the balance to his credit, without such contribution and the interest thereon. In the case of there being any outstandings against a servant who may have resigned, or been dismissed, the Pabna Edward College Governing Body may deduct the amount of such outstandings from his deposits, and pay him the balance after such deduction.

As to the rest they have not as yet expressed their readiness to stay permanently; it is hoped that many of them will be able to make up their minds in a short time and decide to stay permanently.	The college is a branch of a public trust and is under the supervision of a number of enlightened and public-spirited gentlemen and nothing is allowed to be done except in the interest of the work. It is managed by a College Council, three out of the four members of which come from the teaching staff. Occasions for dismissing any member of the staff have been very rare, and changes in the staff have, almost in every case, been due to voluntary resignation in the personal interest of the individual concerned.

If, however, the difference contains a fraction of an anna, or, if the total difference is less than 4 annas, this fraction or sum shall be left in the Savings Bank for adjustment at the close of the following year. No voluntary deposits from servants will be credited to the Provident Fund. 13. On a depositor leaving the service his account shall be closed and, unless the amount at his credit be withdrawn within a certain period, viz., for balances of Rs. 100 and under, one year, for balances over Rs. 101, three years, it shall be written as a 'dead account' and repaid only under the orders of the Governing Body. 14. When accounts become 'dead' they must be removed from the Provident Fund Ledger and be credited in the cash book as a miscellaneous receipt, the money being drawn out of the Savings Bank. On an amount being thus written off it should be entered in a 'dead account' register, in which subsequent repayments shall be noted to avoid a double payment. IV. Resolved that the Provident Scheme be given effect to from the 1st April, 1915, but the Governing Body's contribution to the fund under paragraph 3 of the foregoing rules, shall, for the present, be only one-quarter of the depositors' subscriptions, i.e., one pice per each rupee of salary. A deduction of one anna per rupee (fraction of a rupee being left out) is made from the pay and half-anna per rupee is contributed by the college. The whole amount is deposited in the Trust Fund of the college and interest is paid at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on the total amount accruing to one's account on the last date of previous year. No employee whose services are dispensed with or who resigns his post within five years from the date on which the first Provident Fund deduction is made from his pay is entitled to get the amount contributed by the college. There is a Provident Fund. STATEMENT XI.

Non-university examination courses.

Name of college.	Town in which the college is situated.	Full particulars of any classes or courses which have been held during the five sessions 1913-14 to 1917-18 inclusive, other than those held in connexion with university examinations.
Baptist College	Rangoon	The only such classes or courses that have been held are the Scripture classes. As we never expected that these would be of interest to the university authorities, no records of them have been preserved in the office. But below is a rough account indicating the activities of the college in this direction. Three classes are held each year, one is for first year students, one for second year students, and one for third and fourth year students together. They begin work in June. That for third and fourth year students continues to the middle of December; the rest continue through January. They meet three times a week, and the meeting lasts for 30 minutes. Attendance is required of all students. The courses are non-controversial in character, and care is taken not to offend the religious susceptibilities of any students. We aim to base the courses on scholarly knowledge, but to make them bear practically on life. The courses for the session of 1917-18 have been :— For first year students, The Manhood of the Master by Dr. Fosdick. The class has been taught by the Professor of Chemistry. For second year students, The Social Teachings of Christianity by Dr. Rauchenbusch. The class has been taught by the Professor of Mathematics. For third and fourth year students, The Meaning of Prayer by Dr. Fosdick. The class has been taught by the Principal. In past years, among the courses taught have been ; the Life of Christ, the Life of Paul, the Epistle to the Romans. Expeditions are organised such as visits to Botanical Gardens, the Mint, the Bengal Legislative Council, the Water Works at Tallab, art section of Indian Museum, Food Products Exhibition, Galleries at Belvedere, Cotton Mill and the Serampore College. On such occasions the students are accompanied by two or more members of the Staff and write afterwards in Bengali an account of their visit, which is looked over by the professors who accompanied them. These expeditions take place so that each year has one expedition a month during college terms. matriculation and this may have given rise to some of the irregularities shown in the table. But the following figures for the second year classes in the different faculties illustrate the difference in the working years of the different colleges :—

Second year.	Maximum number of working days.	Minimum number of working days.
Arts	198	78
Science	198	48
Law	200	157
Medicine (a)	194	...
Engineering (b)	164	...
Teaching	195	108

(a) In the year 1917-18, Belgachia Medical College had no second year class.
(b) There is only one engineering college in Bengal.

Statement X.

19. Periods which elapse between the first day of the session in the first and third years and the actual beginning of the teaching work for students in those years, respectively.—The session 1916-17 was exceptional owing to the postponement of the matriculation examination. But this postponement did not affect the work of the third year. The delay in beginning work in certain colleges appears to be due to the time taken in registering students. Taking the third year only, we find that the delay in beginning work amounted to as much as 6 weeks in some instances, while other colleges found it practicable to begin work immediately or almost immediately after the commencement of term. Long delays involve a grave waste of the students' time.

Statement XI.

This statement shows the extra-University courses offered by the colleges of Calcutta University. Some of the colleges do indeed offer some subjects of study which belong to this category, but they are mostly religious in character or else such as are necessary for certain specific, though non-University, examinations, as Pleadership or State Medical Faculty examination. A college or two provided for lectures in subjects like physical education or hygiene.

Statement XII.

In the great majority of western universities the classes are attended not only by persons following a regular degree course but by considerable numbers of other persons who desire to attend them for various purposes. The practice of allowing persons other than examination candidates to attend university courses is very rare in India.
